DAV Gives $100 To Tornado Fund

A contribution of $100 was made by King-Marson Chapter No. 11 of Disabled American Veterans to the Northeast Iowa tornado disaster fund at their meeting Thursday.

The DAV proceeds derived from the annual fund raising forget-me-not drive are earmarked for the organization's hospital program and for assistance of veterans and their dependents and for other worthwhile community projects, a DAV official said.

After each performance, a western horse show will occur which will feature top Quarter Horses, Paints, Appaloosas and PCAs in the Midwest.

The rodeos will include saddle broncs, bareback broncs, calf roping, bull riding, bulldogging and girls' barrel races.

Other entertainment booked so far include "Doc and Festus" of "Gunsmoke," television fame on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and the Grand Ole Opry spectacular Friday, headed up by Ray Price and Hank Thompson.

Pork Sign-Up Hits 7,150

Kickoff for the initial series of production-promotion projects by the National Pork Council has spurred Iowa farmers to again increase their participation in the Council's growing "Nickels For Profit" campaign.

By the end of May, Iowa's President Paul McNutt said a total of 7,150 hog raisers have paid membership dues to the local, state and national park councils.

Approximately 160 buying points reported in April and collected the self-help investments of producers. During April 230,000 hogs were marketed under the 5-cent deduction plan.

Top progress is being reported in such key hog counties as Clinton, Benton and Delaware.

Although still in the first few months of its financing program, the National Pork Producers Council has already authorized a number of projects designed to increase the profits in hog production.

The council is devoting approximately half of the total "Nickels For Profit" it receives to improving and protecting the production end of the hog business, the other half to seeking profits on the market end by expanding consumer demand.

Martin Oil Co. Robbed; $389 In Cash Taken

Police said $389 in checks and $389 in cash was taken from the Martin Oil Co., East Third

The money was kept in bank bags in an inside office and pry marks were detected on the door but the matter is still under study, police said.

The station is open all night.
